6. Open Forum. Barb Barnes, 438 Forest Avenue West, approached the commission with concern over her neighbor, in the R-3 district, that opened a Residential Day Care facility with the intent to transition into a Commercial Day Care facility.

Barnes stated concerns that Forest Avenue West was a non-standard width street and when a car was parked on the street, two cars could not pass by at the same time, and with increased traffic and parked cars it could be an issue; in addition, Forest Avenue West was not a through street, it ended at the History Center.

Barnes reported up to six cars, twice per day, would use her driveway as a turnaround without her permission.

Barnes cited Minnesota statutes requiring a public hearing for Conditional Use Permits and expressed a desire to have a say regarding the impact the day care facility may have on the neighborhood and was concerned her voice may not be heard without a public hearing.

The commission explained no Conditional Use Permit was applied for or required by the Day Care Facility, the commission was reviewing a text amendment to the City Code of Ordinances regarding outdated verbiage for Day Care Facilities and to update City Code would require a Public Hearing which she could attend, moreover the City can only regulate what is allowed to be regulated via the Code of Ordinances.

The commission recommended Barnes continue having open communication with the neighboring Day Care Facility and express the day care patrons may not use the neighboring driveways as a turnaround.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Planning Commission
FROM: Mark Nolan, AICP, Senior Planner II
Short Elliott Hendrickson, Inc.
SUBJECT: Public hearing to consider a text amendment to the zoning ordinance relating to day care facilities in residential districts
DATE: November 8, 2021

SUMMARY

The Planning Commission will conduct a public hearing to consider a text amendment to the City of Mora Code of Ordinances, Title XV Land Usage, Chapter 150 Zoning Code, regarding day care facilities in residential districts. The proposed text amendment was initiated by the City of Mora.

DISCUSSION

The Plan Commission has discussed this topic during the last few Planning Commission meetings and has decided to move forward with a text amendment. The zoning code allows for residential day cares in some districts as permitted by right, but the majority of the proposed changes will focus on allowing non-residential day cares in certain districts. The main difference between a residential day care and a non-residential day care is that a residential day care facility is located in a dwelling in which the permanent occupant provides care and supervision to children, whereas a non-residential day care is typically operated by a business or organization.

Providing adequate day care options is beginning to be recognized as a necessary economic development tool and a necessary service in communities across the country. Allowing day care facilities by right or conditional use in residential districts is one way to speed up the approval process for day care providers and allow day cares to serve their surrounding neighborhoods. Staff wants to acknowledge that allowing this use in residential districts may result in some negative impacts on the surrounding area, depending on the proposed project. Day cares produce more traffic than a typical home; however, this traffic is typically only increased in the morning and afternoon but for only 15-30 minutes each. Day cares may also produce more noise in a neighborhood than a typical single-family house if there is an outdoor play area. The day cares that are proposed to be permitted by right will likely have a minimal impact on the surrounding neighborhood; however, these factors should be acknowledged. Day cares permitted by conditional use will be reviewed by the Plan Commission and these factors can be addressed at that time. Overall, staff believes that the public benefit of allowing day cares in residential areas outweighs the potential negative impacts.

Below is a summary of the proposed changes:

- Allow non-residential day care facilities by right for facilities serving up to 14 persons in the R-1, R-3, and R-4 zoning districts.

- Allow residential and non-residential day care facilities by conditional use for facilities serving up to 14 persons in the R-2 zoning districts.
- Allow non-residential day care facilities by conditional use for facilities serving 15 or more persons in the R-3 and R-4 zoning districts.
- Allow non-residential day care facilities as an accessory use when the facility is an accessory to a legal conforming church, school or health care facility in the R-1, R-3, and R-4 zoning districts.
- Adding parking minimum parking requirements under residential uses for day care facilities.
 - No spaces required for residential day cares serving no more than 14 persons. The dwelling is still subject to minimum parking requirements provided in the parking section.
 - No additional spaces required for non-residential facility when serving no more than 14 persons.
 - 1 space per 5 persons served based on the facility's licensed capacity plus 1 space for each employee or volunteer on the largest shift plus 1 space for each business vehicle for non-residential facilities serving 15 or more persons.
- Amend definitions for residential and non-residential day care facilities.

A public hearing notice was published in the Kanabec County Times on October 21st and October 28th; the public hearing was also advertised at city hall. The notice encouraged those wishing to provide testimony to do so in writing, with written testimony request to be submitted by Friday, November 5th. Staff has not received any inquiries regarding this item.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Planning Commission
FROM: Mark Nolan, AICP, Senior Planner II
Short Elliott Hendrickson, Inc.
SUBJECT: Public Hearing to consider approval of the Comprehensive Plan Update and forward a recommendation of approval to City Council.
DATE: November 8, 2021

SUMMARY

The Planning Commission will conduct a public hearing to consider approval of the Comprehensive Plan Update and to forward a recommendation of approval to City Council.

DISCUSSION

The Comprehensive Plan is one of the primary tools used by local governments to achieve a community vision, regulate land uses and guide future investments. Comprehensive Plans typically include history and demographics about the community along with chapters on land use, housing, transportation, parks and trails / recreation, community facilities and services, goals and policies, implementation tools, and more. Comprehensive Plans also include a Land Use Map which visualizes the content of the plan.

The City of Mora's current Comprehensive Plan was adopted by the City Council in 2009 and the Planning Commission has been tasked with updating the plan once again. The City, utilizing the consulting services of Hometown Planning, Inc. for the project, began the updating process in 2019. Because the Comprehensive Plan establishes a vision and guides decisions for the entire community, it was vital to engage members of the community in the process. The first step in garnering community involvement was the formation of a 13-member Comprehensive Plan Committee representing a diverse mix of populations served and community interests. The second step in garnering community involvement was collecting feedback through the use of a community survey (fall 2019). Results of the survey helped to create a blueprint for the Comprehensive Plan update by identifying what's most important to community members.

The Comprehensive Plan Committee met several times throughout the process, reviewing all sections of the current plan and recommending changes for the Comprehensive Plan update. Hometown Planning, City staff and the Planning Commission then worked together to prepare a draft Comprehensive Plan update which addressed concerns identified through the community survey process, included recommendations from the Comprehensive Plan Committee, and incorporated current statistical information.

The Planning Commission has completed its review of the draft Comprehensive Plan update and held an open house on September 22nd in order for the community to learn about the draft update and provide feedback. At its October 6th meeting the Planning Commission discussed the draft Comprehensive Plan update and feedback obtained at the open house, and scheduled this public hearing to consider its approval.

A public hearing notice was published in the Kanabec County Times on October 21st and October 28th. The notice encouraged those wishing to provide testimony to do so in writing, with written testimony request to be submitted by Friday, November 5th. Staff has not received any inquiries regarding this item.

ACTION REQUESTED

Motion to approve the Comprehensive Plan Update and to forward recommendation of approval to City Council.

VISION STATEMENT

The City of Mora is committed to a Comprehensive Plan which provides a basis for carefully managed growth while preserving the community's identity, valued traditions, and natural resources. Mora will be known as a thriving and welcoming community that provides residents of all ages with opportunities for personal enrichment and a high quality of life; seeks to attract economic growth and development while maintaining a small-town atmosphere; and, provides exceptional municipal services.

Supporting this vision, the City of Mora values:

- Community growth through residential, commercial and industrial development;
- Residential development which provides a variety of housing options, with an emphasis on multi-family, workforce, and affordable housing;
- Preservation of community identity and traditions;
- Staying current with information technology;
- Promotion of health and wellness, including mental health awareness; and,
- Maintenance and improvement of municipal utility infrastructure.

INTRODUCTION

Planning is a continuous process. A community updates and modifies its plans to respond to its changing social, economic, environmental and political conditions. This process involves looking toward the future and anticipating problems and opportunities which may occur. (Paraphrased from Chapin, Urban Land Use Planning)

The four basic elements which are considered in an on-going comprehensive planning program include:

- Development of goals and policies to guide decision making;
- Identification of planning issues and data collection;
- Preparation of the Comprehensive Plan to serve as a guide for future activities within the City;
- Implementation of the Comprehensive Plan which will support and direct activities such as zoning, shoreland management, subdivision control, and capital improvement programs.

The Plan is designed to correct existing problems and to help increase the City's quality of life by helping to realize a well-functioning community.

The Comprehensive Plan and its well thought out goals and policies are vital in the future implementation of the City's development controls. Future development should be based upon the goals and policies stated in the Comprehensive Plan. This provides the City with a sound legal framework for the implementation and enforcement of future ordinances.

After the Comprehensive Plan has been prepared and adopted it must then be implemented to be effective. The Plan itself does nothing to ensure that its contents will be accomplished. Implementation tools typically include a zoning map, a zoning ordinance, subdivision regulations, shoreland management ordinance, floodplain management ordinance, capital improvement programs and utilization of federal and state aid programs.

The planning process should continue to offer a flexible process which is adaptable to change. A continual re-evaluation of the issues and data which formulated the initial plan should be undertaken on a periodic basis. It is important to remember that the development of the implementation tool is not the conclusion of an overall planning program. These tools must be updated on a continual basis. This process will provide Mora with a flexible planning program which will respond to the needs of its residents.

Authority to Plan

Municipal planning is authorized under Minnesota State Statute 462.351-462.364 which include the authority to plan, the definition of planning terms, community-based planning, organization for planning, as well as the preparation, adoption and amendment of the comprehensive municipal plan and zoning and subdivision authority. The statement of policy from the legislature includes: "Municipal planning will assist in developing lands more wisely to serve citizens more effectively, will make the provision of public services less costly, and will achieve a more secure tax base." The City of Mora complies with this legislature in its ability, authority and need to plan.

Previous Plans

This document is a continuation of the on-going planning process in Mora. It legally amends the 2009 Comprehensive Plan, the latest official Comprehensive Plan for the City. The City has used this planning process as an opportunity to evaluate and reinforce the existing growth and development policies and to evaluate previous planning efforts in order to update and reinforce past decisions that are still valid. A major premise of this Plan, therefore, is to utilize portions of previous community plans whenever applicable.

Methodology

This Comprehensive Plan is the product of several entities and systemic, ongoing, forward-looking processes including:

- The development of a community survey which was distributed to all customers of Mora Municipal Utilities, which includes all Mora residences and businesses as well as some residences and businesses in Arthur Township. The survey was also made available in an online format. A total of 200 responses were received to the survey;
- The formation of an ad hoc Comprehensive Plan Committee, appointed by the Planning Commission and composed of a cross section of representatives of governmental, non-profit and private entities from throughout the community;
- The garnering of input from the Mora City Council, Planning Commission, Economic Development Authority, Public Utilities Commission, Park Board and Airport Board;
- The gathering of demographic and historical data from a variety of sources including the City of Mora, Kanabec County, the State of Minnesota and the US Census. Review of City ordinances, prior planning documents, reports, studies, etc.;
- Assistance from the City Engineer;
- Assistance from a planning consultant; and,
- Assistance from City Staff.

Purpose

The purpose of this Plan is to guide City leaders in making decisions on the growth of Mora. A good Comprehensive Plan provides a direction for making public decisions by the establishment of goals and policies. These goals and policies are in essence a yardstick that provides a uniform set of measurements on which to judge development proposals. This Plan gives a sense of direction for change and establishes a community development concept that will have meaning for the residents of Mora.

This Comprehensive Plan has a variety of uses. Elected and appointed officials and staff use it as the basis for decisions regarding land development, infrastructure improvements, acquisition and utilization of public land, capital improvements planning, orderly annexation, natural resources protection and establishing regulatory changes. Property owners can use it to determine potential uses of property, establishing reasonable land values, and making property improvements. Developers can use the Plan for acquiring property for development, complementing the City's other plans, and establishing major street alignments in newly developing areas.

A Comprehensive Plan is more than a series of maps and written policies. Because the City has decided to continue its involvement in this planning process, it indicates that the citizens of the community are interested in continuing to take an active role in positively influencing the changes that are naturally occurring in Mora. The act of being involved in the planning process, however, does not end with the completion of the Plan. Planning is an ongoing process and the Planning Commission and City Council will be asked to make many land use decisions in the future. These decisions should be based, in large part, on the information, goals, and policies contained within this document.

The Plan is a general guide for development; however, it is the only time when future growth and development is considered in a comprehensive manner. While no plan should be considered final or inflexible, it should be adhered to as much as possible or it will soon become meaningless. As a public document, it is a statement of where various land uses are planned. This information is important when decisions are made for sewer, water, streets, and other public services. It is also important that the citizens know what is planned for their community and they can then make land purchase decisions accordingly. The tools that are available in the form of zoning and subdivision control give a degree of public input into development decisions that can dramatically improve the future environment. If fully utilized by decision makers, this Plan and available management tools will combine to serve as practical working guides to achieve economically efficient, aesthetically-pleasing, and environmentally sound development in Mora.

Comprehensive Planning Process

The Mora Planning Commission began looking into updating the 2009 Comprehensive Plan in late January 2019.

In October 2019 a multifaceted community survey was sent out to customers of Mora Municipal Utilities, which includes all Mora residences and businesses as well as some residences and businesses in Arthur Township, for the purpose of garnering feedback and input on a variety of issues from not only residents of Mora, but also those who do not reside within the City limits, but have a vested interest in the community. Approximately 1,770 surveys were sent out, with 200 being returned. A copy of the survey that was distributed and the survey results are attached as Appendix B.

In February 2019 the Planning Commission began forming an ad hoc Comprehensive Plan Committee to assist with the Comprehensive Plan update. The purpose of this committee was to provide the City with feedback on the planning process, and to ensure the information collected and the ideas proposed appropriately reflect the City's current condition and future needs. The committee contained a cross-section of community interests and included a total of 14 members, including representation from the Mora City Council and Mora Planning Commission.

The Comprehensive Plan Committee held several meetings and was involved in the creation of the community survey, review of survey results and discussion about common themes contained in the survey results, review of the 2009 Comprehensive Plan, discussion about current needs for the community, development of an inventory of community assets, and review of the draft 2021 Comprehensive Plan prior to adoption.

Scope of the Plan

Plans that anticipate too far into the future are necessarily broad in scope and will not provide the guidance needed for day-to-day decisions. The Comprehensive Plan should look first at making Mora a better place to live, work and play for the people who live here now. Whether the City of Mora grows substantially, remains the same size, or even dwindles in size, the objective to keep improving the City should be the same. This Plan is based on a 10-20 year planning period with a limited range of recommended actions. The Plan addresses issues that need to be resolved now or in the near future. As new issues arise, the Plan should be amended accordingly.

Location

The City of Mora is located approximately 72 miles north of the Twin Cities, 90 miles southwest of Duluth, 60 miles southeast of Brainerd, and 52 miles northeast of St. Cloud. Mora is situated along the shores of scenic Lake Mora and the Snake River in south central Kanabec County. Major transportation routes include immediate access to State Highway 23 running west to US Highway 169 at Milaca and east to Interstate 35 near Hinckley, as well as State Highway 65 running south to the Twin Cities and north through the lakes country to US Highway 2.

The area around Mora is dotted with many lakes and rivers including Knife, Ann, Fish, Mora, Eleven, Bass, Lewis, Five, Full of Fish, Quamba and Pomroy lakes, as well as the Snake, Knife, Groundhouse, Grindstone, Ann and Rice rivers. These lakes and rivers represent a significant and valuable natural resource to both the City of Mora and State of Minnesota, and provide a considerable recreation and tourism value to the community.

Mora is located within the region known as "7E" consisting of the counties of Pine, Isanti, Chisago, Kanabec and Mille Lacs, also known as the PICKM counties. The region covers 3,400 square miles in area; has a population of approximately 169,242 (2019); and, includes five counties, 39 cities and 88 townships. It is one of the fastest growing regions in the State because of its proximity to the Twin Cities metro area.

HISTORY

Myron R. Kent filed the first plat of the village of Mora in May 1882 and the first post office opened in February 1883. Since being officially incorporated as a village in 1891 and designated as a city by state statute in 1973, Mora has grown steadily into a prosperous community of 3,615 people as per 2019 estimates. Mora is the County Seat and dominant trade center of Kanabec County. Mora, which is served by State Highways 23 and 65, is located strategically in relation to the Twin Cities, St. Cloud and Duluth. It is 72 miles due north of the Twin Cities, 52 miles northeast of St. Cloud and 90 miles southwest of Duluth as shown in Figure 1.

Like most other Midwest communities, Mora's beginning was tied to transportation; first water transportation and later the railroad. The Snake River was used by many early explorers and later by logging operations and steamboats. The railroad, however, put Mora on the map. In 1882, Kent, anticipating development opportunities as a result of Great Northern Railroad Company expansion through Kanabec County, conceived and platted Mora which was named after a town in central Sweden located on Lake Siljan in Dalarna Province. Israel Israelson, an early settler who homesteaded near Lewis Lake in 1871, was credited with suggesting the name of the village after his hometown in Dalarna, Sweden.

Mora grew rapidly in its early years serving the region's thriving logging industry. In 1882, the year Mora was first platted and the County Seat of Kanabec County was moved from Brunswick to Mora, the logging industry was declining as the supply of timber dwindled. Pioneer Swedish immigrants were credited for beginning the conversion of the county from a region of logging into an area of agricultural development. Primarily through the promotion efforts of one man, J. C. Morrison, Mora's future was secured. European immigrants, particularly Swedish, were attracted by him in large numbers to settle in Kanabec County and develop farms on the cut over land. Mora grew into the community it is today. Mora residents, many who are descendants of the original European immigrants must again consciously consider the future of their community.

Change is evident. According to demographics and community surveys conducted as part of comprehensive planning projects in 1994, 2007 and 2019, Mora's role as an agriculturally based trade center is declining. This is likely due to the decreasing farm population and encroachment of the Twin Cities metro area. Although agriculture is an important economic activity in Kanabec County, manufacturing and other industrial activities have become increasingly more important for the City of Mora.

Ancestry and cultural heritage are still very important aspects of life in Mora, as evidenced by the photos below. Currently, many events, activities, decorative features, buildings and developments are centered around the area's Swedish heritage.

DEMOGRAPHICS

Survey and Analysis

The survey and analysis section represents the data gathering process in the development of the Comprehensive Plan. Its purpose is to record existing conditions and analyze trends in population, housing, economic activity, land use and natural resources. This section provides an understanding of those factors which have influenced present development and will serve as a basis in the formulation of appropriate goals, policies and development guides.

Employment, population and housing are highly interrelated and need to be studied separately as well as collectively to determine a community's growth potential. Employment opportunities provided by industrial development are the key to Mora's future growth. This in turn directly affects population and housing. Population analysis and projections are essential parts of any community planning program.

Population

Analysis of past, current, and predicted population trends is one of the most important parts of the survey and analysis section of the Comprehensive Plan. By understanding the changes that are taking place in the City's population and the surrounding townships, development goals can be better defined to meet the needs of the community. Population trends for Mora from 1940 to 2019 and the surrounding townships from 1970 to 2019 are shown in Tables 1 and 2.

Population Trends – Kanabec County and Kanabec County Townships

Since its founding, the City of Mora has grown steadily every decade except during the 1920's and the 1980's. As can be seen in Table 1, Mora grew 10.9% in the 1960's and by 11.9% in the 1970's. The City's population began to decline in the early 1980's, but the decline bottomed out in 1986. The City again grew by about 10% in the 1990's and almost 12% in the 2000's. The latest estimates indicate that the City's population may have again mostly flattened out in the 2010's with an estimated population in 2019 of 3,615 persons.

Table 2 shows Mora's population changes as compared to other cities in the area. Cambridge has shown the most rapid growth, more than tripling in population since 1970. Mora, Pine City, Milaca, Rush City and Hinckley have all experienced slower, but steady growth over that same time period. In Kanabec County, Grasston, Ogilvie and Quamba have all maintained relatively low but stable populations over the years.

Population trends for other townships and cities in Kanabec County have also generally shown growth. Comfort, South Fork, Whited and Knife Lake townships experienced the largest increases in their total population – all growing by more than 100 persons between 2010 and 2019. Like Mora, however, their estimated 2019 populations all show significantly slower growth as a percentage – dropping from growth rates of between 10 and 20 percent to around 1-2%.

Meanwhile, Kanabec County as a whole enjoyed a population growth rate of about 8.3% in the 2000's, but dropped to an estimated growth rate below 1% in the 2010's. Region 7E grew 30.7% between 1970 and 1980, and 9.4% from 1980 to 1990, shown in Table 4. The most current projections from the Minnesota State Demographer, however, indicate that Region 7E as a whole is expected to maintain a relatively flat level of population through 2050, as shown in Table 5.

Median Age - City of Mora and Selected Nearby Cities

An analysis of the City's population composition is vital in planning for future services and facilities. School and recreational needs are two examples of services and facilities that are affected by changes in the composition of the City's population. The study of population by age groups provides information on the number of elderly and other age groups who might have specific or unique needs.

A review of changes among age groups (see Table 6) shows an increase in population in the over 75 years old age group and in the 25-29 years old age group. As in the United States as a whole, the older age group, over 75 years of age, has increased rapidly. The median age for Mora residents has steadily increased from 36.6 years in 1970 to 39.7 in 2000, before leveling off to 39.6 in 2010. Kanabec County's median age continued to increase between 2000 and 2010 – increasing from 38.0 to 42.1.

Mora's future planning efforts should keep in mind the needs of its largest age groups – its young adults and senior citizens. These age groups are more dependent on walking, biking and/or public transit and create the bulk of the demand for services such as recreation, medical and social services.

Educational Attainment

Information on educational attainment of Mora area residents is shown in Table 8. In 2018, the education level of the City's population was under the State average. The percent of high school graduates among Mora's residents over the age of 25 increased from 65% in 1990 to 78% in 2000 and to an estimated 91.2% in 2018, signaling significant progress. Still, the City remained slightly below the average for Region 7E as a whole (91.8%) and the State of Minnesota (93.0%).

In regards to the number of residents age 25 and over that had attained a bachelor's degree or higher, Mora has increased from 13.9% in 2000 to an estimated 17.0% in 2018. While this also shows significant progress, it remains slightly less than Region 7E (17.4%) and less than half of the average for the entire State of Minnesota (35.4%).

Tables 9a and 9b show the percentage of high school graduates and those with Bachelor’s degrees or higher over time. Compared to Kanabec County as a whole, Mora’s residents have slightly higher rates of educational attainment. Compared to the entire state however, Mora’s percentage of high school graduates has remained below the average and significantly below the average of the state when it comes to college degrees.

Economy

Analyzing the makeup and current health of the economy in and around the City of Mora is an important factor used to determine the overall growth and development of the area. A healthy economy creates jobs and generates a need for new housing and services. This, in turn, generates pressure for land development. An analysis of the local and regional economy will form part of the basis from which assumptions on the future growth and development of Mora will be made.

Table 10a indicates the amount of time workers from cities in Kanabec County, Kanabec County as a whole, and Region 7E as a whole travel to their workplace. Workers who live in Mora tend to have relatively short drive times to their work (18.8 minutes on average), indicating that most workers living in Mora also work in Mora or its immediately surrounding area. Table 10b breaks down the data a bit more specifically, indicating that of Mora’s 1,425 commuters more than half of them (776 or about 54%) are within a 14 minute drive of their workplace. A significant number (299 or 21.0%) drive between 25 and 39 minutes to work – suggesting locations such as Cambridge, Princeton and Hinckley. About 12.4% or 176 workers drive 45 minutes or more to work, which would indicate workplaces such as North Branch, Forest Lake, Elk River, Blaine and other northern exurban areas of the Twin Cities and to the St. Cloud area.

The data for other cities and Kanabec County as a whole indicate that a fair number of their commuters are likely driving into Mora for their work, with others driving to the other regional employment centers in the area that Mora workers are likely driving to as well.

Monthly Unemployment Rate – United States, State of Minnesota, Region 7E and Kanabec County (2011-2020)

Source: Minnesota Department of Employment and Economic Development

As shown in Tables 11 and 12 and illustrated in Graph 9, the unemployment rate in Kanabec County has fluctuated over the years from relative lows of 4.8% in 2000 to a much higher 11.2% in 2010 as the economy nationwide was still recovering from the “Great Recession” to a rate of about 6-6.5% in more recent years.

Compared to Region 7E and the state, Kanabec County’s unemployment rate has generally been higher in recent decades, although the most recent data has actually been better than the state average. This is likely a temporary condition related to the economic upheavals from the COVID-19 pandemic.

The most recent estimates (2018) indicate that household median income (defined as the income of the householder and all other individuals 15 years or older in the household, whether they are related to the householder or not) for Mora was $40,221 (up from $30,566 in 2000 but down slightly from $41,081 in 2010). These figures, as compared to Kanabec County and the State of Minnesota as a whole were relatively low. Kanabec County’s median household income in 2018 was $53,300 and Minnesota’s was $68,411.

Housing

An analysis of housing characteristics is an important part of the City's Comprehensive Plan. This is because housing is an essential need by residents and the size and condition of the housing stock is an important factor in the community's environment and quality of life.

PHYSICAL CHARACTERISTICS AND NATURAL RESOURCES

The physical characteristics and natural resources of an area serve as a guiding force in the development of communities. Physical characteristics and natural resources played key roles in the locations where rural communities developed. Future development in Mora will be shaped to some extent by the physical characteristics and natural resources of the area.

Topography

Topographically the built up area of the City is flat to gently rolling with an average elevation of 1,000 feet Mean Sea Level. Grades and slopes along the Snake River and Lake Mora place some restrictions on development since these areas are subject to floodplain management and shoreland management regulations.

Climate

Mora is located at 1,000 to 1,010 feet above Mean Sea Level. The climate for this area is typically continental, characterized by wide variations in temperature. In Mora, the summers are warm and wet; the winters are freezing, snowy, and windy; and it is partly cloudy year round. Over the course of the year, the temperature typically varies from 4°F to 80°F and is rarely below -18°F or above 89°F. Each winter, on average, the risk of frost is from September 22 through May 17. Most precipitation received in the area occurs during the period from May through September, with the average annual amount of precipitation being 29.5 inches. Most snowfall occurs from November through February, with the average annual snowfall being 46 inches.

Soils

Soils throughout the Mora area are generally well drained sandy loams with a deep water table. Limitations on development because of the soil conditions would be slight, except near the banks of the Snake River and the shores of Lake Mora and Spring Lake where flooding potential and peat may exist. Soils in the area are primarily the Milaca-Ronneby Association and the Rosholt-Onamia Association. The Milaca-Ronneby Association is described as nearly level to gently sloping, well and somewhat poorly drained soils that have dense reddish fine sandy loam subsoil. The Rosholt-Onamia Association is characterized by nearly level to gently sloping well drained soils that have loamy subsoil and gravelly sand substratum.

Development should be discouraged on environmentally sensitive soils and appropriate land regulatory measures, such as Zoning, Subdivision, Shoreland Management and Floodplain Management Ordinances, should be strictly enforced and regularly updated to ensure the protection and preservation of these areas.

Wood

Aerial photos reveal that areas of natural vegetation exist primarily along the Snake River and the north half of Lake

Mora. Mature trees are also found in older built up residential areas and in Oakwood Cemetery. These wooded areas are a dominant visual characteristic of Mora and should be preserved for their aesthetic value as well as their environmental benefits.

Drainage

The majority of the City of Mora is drained by the Snake River which has served for many years as Mora's natural western boundary. This is now changing, due to annexation, with the boundary of the City now on the west side of the river. The river, which flows in a relatively undisturbed natural setting, should be preserved and protected.

With increasingly large rain events and subsequent flooding within certain areas of the community, the City of Mora retained Advanced Engineering and Environmental Services, Inc. (AE2S) to complete a regional drainage analysis for three major watersheds located within the community: Downtown, Fairgrounds, and Lake Mora. The purpose of the analysis was to:

1. Identify and assess key storm system deficiencies and risk areas within the Downtown and Fairground watersheds;
2. Determine the hydraulic interaction between Lake Mora and the City’s storm system and design a gravity outlet system for Lake Mora; and,
3. Evaluate alternative solutions to improve regional drainage and reduce the risk of flooding.

AE2S presented its findings, including implementation and prioritization of storm sewer system improvements, to the Mora City Council in October 2019. Because constructing all of the storm sewer system improvements at once is not financially feasible for the City, it is anticipated that improvements will be phased and integrated into street and utility improvement projects when possible.

Water Resources - Shoreland

The Minnesota Department of Natural Resources Statewide Standards affect all lakes greater than ten acres in municipalities, and rivers with drainage areas two square miles or greater. These standards set guidelines for the use and development of shoreland property including: a sanitary code, minimum lot size, minimum water frontage, building setbacks, building heights and subdivision regulations. The public waters in the City of Mora are protected waters and are regulated by the Shoreland Management and Floodplain Management Ordinances. The DNR's definition of "shoreland" is land located within the following distances of public water: 1,000 feet from the ordinary high level of a lake, pond, or flowage; and 300 feet from a river or stream, or the landward extent of a floodplain designated by ordinance on a river or stream, whichever is greater.

The following bodies of water are classified in accordance to the shoreland classification system as follows:

Lake Mora	General Development
Spring Lake	Recreational Development
Snake River	Transition River

These bodies of water are under the jurisdiction of the City's Shoreland Management Ordinance. The Shoreland Management Ordinance defines the classifications of the bodies of water as such:

General Development Lakes -- Have greater than 225 acres of water per mile of shoreland, over 25 dwellings per mile of shoreland and are over 15 feet deep.

Recreational Development Lakes -- Have between 60 and 225 acres of water per mile of shoreline, between 3 and 25 dwellings per mile of shoreland, and are over 15 feet deep.

Transition River -- A mixture of cultivated, pasture, and forested land.

Floodplain

Portions of the lakes and rivers are susceptible to periodic flooding from snow melt, rainfall, and other causes. Due to potential flood damage to property, the federal government has conducted a flood study of the City. The study designates floodway, the 100 year floodplain, and the 500 year floodplain. The floodway and floodplain are areas that pose special problems for development. For this reason, the State has mandated floodplain zoning regulations for land within the floodway and the 100 year floodplain.

A Guide for Buying and Managing Shoreland, written by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) states: "The natural floodplain is an important part of our water system. It affects storm runoff, water quality, vegetative diversity, wildlife habitat and aesthetic qualities of the lakes and river."

A Guide for Buying and Managing Shoreland has the following to say about the floodway: "The floodway is the natural conduit for flood waters. The floodway must remain open in order to allow flood waters to pass. Since these areas must be left open, only green space uses, such as farm land, residential yards or gardens, golf courses, parks, playgrounds, or parking areas, should be allowed in the floodway. The remainder of the floodplain lying outside of the floodway is called the flood fringe. This area is generally covered by shallow, slow moving flood waters. Development is normally allowed in the flood fringe as a conditional use, provided that the residential buildings are placed on fill so that the lowest floor, including the basement, is two feet above the 100 year flood level."

The City's current Floodplain Management Ordinance was adopted in February 2021, following a two-year effort by the Planning Commission and City Council to update the 1997 ordinance to be in compliance with State floodplain management rules and the floodplain management standards of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). To address local flooding concerns, and with full support from the DNR, the City established a new flood district – known as the Flood Prone District – and corresponding City of Mora Flood Prone Areas Map. The City's goal in establishing the Flood Prone District was to create awareness of potential flooding and prevent flood damage by providing recommendations for new construction in known flood prone areas.

EXISTING LAND USE

Mora is approximately 3,500 acres in size and is laid out in a traditional small town grid pattern with State Highways 23 and 65 bisecting the City.

The City's predominant existing land use is residential. Based on past history and anticipated growth, there appears to be a sufficient amount of vacant single family residential property to meet needs for at least the next ten years. Multi-family residential land is nearing saturation and there may be a need for more multi-family vacant land in the next several years.

Commercial development straddles the State Highways 23 and 65 corridor, as well as the downtown area. Downtown businesses are located close to the sidewalk in a traditional "Main Street" pattern. Businesses include a variety of service and retail establishments.

There are several developed industrial properties in the northeast part of the City with vacant industrial lots still available in this area. Many of the vacant properties are located in the City's industrial park. With a limited number of vacant buildable lots available in Mora Industrial Park 2nd Addition, the City will need to consider installing street and utility infrastructure to serve the eastern portion of the platted industrial park to meet future industrial development needs.

Institutional uses, including City and County facilities, Welia Health and ISD 332 facilities, take up approximately 25% of the City's acreage.

The City's Official Zoning Map regulates development patterns within the community, helps ensure that new development is compatible with existing uses, and guides the community for future development in tandem with the Comprehensive Plan Land Use Map. It's important for City staff to keep the Zoning Map updated and available to prospective developers.

COMPREHENSIVE PLAN

Planning Assumptions

There are many assumptions in the goals formulation process and it is necessary that they be articulated. This Comprehensive Plan attempts to, at least generally, take into account the most likely factors affecting future development. There are a number of things, however, which cannot be known and certain assumptions need to be made in order to qualify the basis on which planning proposals are made.

Every plan conceived is based on both implicit and explicit assumptions. An implicit assumption, for example, would be that there will be no war or other catastrophe which precludes effective planning for the future. A number of similar assumptions could be stated, but they should not be belabored. There is, however, a need to express the explicit assumptions on which this plan is based. These assumptions need to be carefully reviewed from time to time, in order to test their validity in the light of future events and experience.

Assumptions

The explicit assumptions made for this Plan include the following:

1. Mora's long range role in the region will continue its gradual transition from its historical role as a commercial and service center serving an agricultural trade area to a "full service balanced community" providing a broad mix of housing, shopping and employment opportunities for people throughout the broader region.
2. Mora's population, shopping opportunities and housing stock will continue to experience steady growth in the coming years as it benefits from its position as the County Seat, its location at the intersection of two major state highways and its proximity to other growing communities in the region such as Cambridge and Princeton.
3. Mora's current and future residents will tend to demand a greater focus on:
 - a. compact and family-friendly neighborhoods as opposed to the more sprawling large-lot neighborhoods in more suburban or rural areas;
 - b. well-maintained trails, public parks and playgrounds that offer a wider variety of recreation opportunities for all ages, including seniors and the elderly;
 - c. transportation infrastructure that continues to serve the personal automobile as the primary means of transportation, but that also meets the desires and needs of residents who do not have access to personal automobiles or would prefer the option of walking, biking and using public transit to move about the community; and
 - d. a broad spectrum of housing styles and neighborhoods that will serve their needs and allow them to stay in Mora throughout all stages of life.
4. The City will continue to experience growth in the number of senior and elderly residents, but should expect that the City will begin to also attract a greater number of younger residents and families - both with and without children.
5. Mora's land use patterns and mix of residents and businesses will be influenced by a number of regional economic and technological trends over which it has little direct control, including:

- a. the availability, reliability and affordability of high-speed internet;
- b. continued growth in the use of the internet for day-to-day shopping needs, entertainment and education;
- c. proximity to sub-regional growth centers such as Cambridge and Princeton and its location at the intersection of two major state highways; and
- d. the expanding influence of the Twin Cities metropolitan region on housing supply, demand and affordability, employment opportunities and shopping.

While other broader economic and technological trends will certainly create opportunities and challenges, it is these four that will have the greatest influence on Mora over the next 20 years.

Purpose

This Comprehensive Plan examines the City's existing state in terms of its physical, social, and economic components. The plan, goals, and policies which have been developed should not be viewed as a "static" document. Rather, necessary changes should be made, on a regular basis, to reflect social, economic and political situations as warranted. The key to an effective plan is to strike the right balance between identifying the general framework within which to move forward, and allowing for adjustments to the details within that framework as conditions warrant. City leaders should not be afraid to suggest amendments to this Plan's goals and policies so that the City can respond in the most effective and creative manner.

The individual components of the Plan should be reviewed every few years, to determine whether policy shifts need to be made. All changes to the Plan should involve broad citizen participation and remain based upon sound planning principles that are supported by solid data and sufficient community support.

Planning Goals and Policies

The formulation of goals and policies involves a significant process involving numerous considerations from a broad spectrum of government, business and citizen leaders throughout the community. The goals and policies that follow were produced after the completion of a community-wide survey, an extensive series of meetings of the Mora Comprehensive Plan Committee, and several work sessions held with input from City Council and Planning Commission members. This broad spectrum of input provides the foundation upon which the implementation tools were developed so as to guide the City's future land use and planning decisions.

Planning goals are broad general statements of value concerning the long range future of the community. Goals are the desired objectives as expressed by the planning participants. They are meant to ultimately result in the kind of living, working and playing environments desired by the residents of the community. The primary goal of this planning process is to create a "quality environment" which will enhance the "quality of life."

Planning policies are generally short range courses of action designed to achieve established goals. They are expressed courses of action by the elected body of the community. Goals and policies must be considered collectively. While an individual goal or policy may dictate a course, it is more likely that several policies should be considered in determining a course of action.

The goals and policies are as follows:

A. Parks and Open Spaces, Environment and Natural Resources

GOAL: Improve and protect the physical environment of the community as a setting for human activities, making it more attractive, healthful and efficient.

POLICIES:

1. Protect and enhance the City's most sensitive natural resources and amenities to preserve the benefits they provide to both wildlife and the City's residents and businesses.
2. Provide an extensive open space system for recreation and other suitable uses, taking advantage of natural features and using, where possible, land not suitable for intensive development.
3. Work to maintain or improve Lake Mora's water quality so that it remains suitable for public use and enjoyment.
4. Ensure that Mora's system of parks is well-maintained and provides recreational amenities for residents and visitors of all ages.
5. Expand, promote and integrate the City's network of off-street trails and paths for use by pedestrians, road and off-road bicyclists, cross-country skiers, and others. Work to improve linkages between the City's neighborhoods and downtown area and to public sites throughout the City such as schools, the library, parks, the Mora Aquatic Center, Lake Mora, the Snake River, and the broader regional trail system.

B. Recreation and Tourism

GOAL: Capitalize on the many advantages of Mora's environmental and cultural amenities to attract tourists and benefit the City's residents and businesses.

POLICIES:

1. Promote Mora to tourists traveling along State Highways 23 and 65, US Highway 169 and Interstate 35 on their way to and from other regional destinations such as Lake Mille Lacs, Minneapolis/St. Paul, St. Cloud, and Duluth. Highlight Mora's many amenities, attractions and businesses as a place to stop and spend a few hours exploring rather than just passing through.
2. Promote Mora and its surrounding region as a regular destination in its own right for multi-day tourists and seasonal residents.
3. Ensure that the City's main transportation thoroughfares are well-maintained, attractive and help draw those passing through into the downtown area and to the City's many cultural, recreational and environmental amenities.
4. Seek to create attractive and visible trailheads to the City's trail and park network.
5. Enhance Lake Mora as a tourist destination by improving public access to the lake and expanding recreational and cultural opportunities on, or adjacent to, the lake.

6. Work with stakeholders, including the County and the Mora Area Chamber of Commerce, to develop a branding and marketing campaign for the community and use it to not only promote tourism in our area, but also as a great place to live and/or start a business.

C. Business & Industry

GOAL: To promote the growth and diversification of Mora's local economy making it a "full service" community with a broad economic base.

POLICIES:

1. Promote Mora as a progressive, growth-oriented community that supports existing businesses and is inviting to new entrepreneurs and industries.
2. Seek to attract and support the expansion of all types of businesses - from small startups and locally owned businesses to larger regional or national businesses and "big box" retailers. The creation of a broad spectrum of business activity can serve as a catalyst for future development and growth and help to ensure that the community does not become over-dependent on any single employer or sector of the economy.
3. Work to create steady growth in the industries that make use of the area's skilled and unskilled labor forces and provide livable wages.
4. Promote coordination among the City and businesses in the central business district and other commercial districts. Work to create a sense that Mora's business districts as a whole are well-kept, attractive and respectful of the City's many historic buildings and Scandinavian heritage. Create an environment where customers may be seeking a stop at one business but are drawn to others as well.

5. Foster and promote physical, social and economic connections between the City's central business district and those businesses located along the State Highway 23 and 65 corridors.
6. Work with businesses and landowners along the City's main thoroughfares to ensure that buildings, storefronts, rear entrances and streetscapes are attractively landscaped and well-kept.

D. Housing

GOAL: Encourage the development and maintenance of a broad variety of housing types to provide the full range of housing opportunities at different sizes, densities and price ranges.

POLICIES:

1. Plan adequate and appropriate areas for residential land uses that make the most efficient use of existing and newly extended infrastructure.
2. Support policies and ordinances that allow for reasonable maintenance and expansion of existing homes that may otherwise be more difficult to sell to families that are seeking to live in the City's older neighborhoods or that may be contributing to substandard housing conditions or environmental blight.
3. Protect the City's residential areas from encroachment by incompatible land uses that make them less attractive for long-term investments.

4. Ensure that City ordinances and policies allow for flexibility in housing types and the design of neighborhoods so as to be responsive to the needs of current and future residents, home building professionals and land developers. Balance this flexibility with the need to promote the efficient use of infrastructure and public resources and create attractive residential neighborhoods.

GOAL: Encourage the development of additional senior living options and services within the community.

POLICIES:

1. Promote the development of housing types appropriate for all stages of a person's life, so as to ensure that people can live in Mora as long as they would like. This includes the development of senior living options, such as assisted living, to allow aging residents to remain in the community while at the same time keeping their independence and quality of life.
2. Promote land use that places seniors in close proximity to shopping, social opportunities, recreation and healthcare.

3. Promote the creation of infrastructure and services necessary to allow older residents to walk, bike or make use of public transit to access a full range of commercial, social and recreational opportunities in the community.
4. Work with the Housing & Redevelopment Authority of Mora (HRA) and other agencies to encourage and create additional senior living developments and services in the community.

E. Public Services and Facilities

GOAL: Maintain a high level of public services in an efficient manner that minimizes the tax burden on Mora's residents, businesses and industries.

POLICIES:

1. Encourage a balanced land use pattern, recognizing that public service costs and requirements vary substantially among the various types of land uses and are not necessarily directly proportionate to the taxes generated.
2. Realize that certain public costs, such as education and pollution control, represent an essential investment in the future and should be supported.
3. Use the Comprehensive Plan as the basis for capital improvement programming in order to ensure that the City's available revenues are spent efficiently and in a manner which promotes continued private investment and re-investment.
4. Continue to promote Mora's central business district as a hub of government, non-profit and private services and shopping opportunities for City residents and the broader region.
5. Enact and enforce appropriate regulations controlling water, land, air and noise pollution, as well as visual blight.
6. Use the Comprehensive Plan as the primary document to communicate the desired direction of Mora's future growth to residents, businesses, land developers and other governmental units.
7. Take positive, proactive steps to actively participate in finding solutions to county, state, federal and other broader issues which have an effect upon Mora's residents, businesses and government.
8. Seek out opportunities to maintain and strengthen strong working relationships with Mora's nearby townships and cities, Kanabec County and other local, state and federal governmental agencies. Continue to promote the independence of each level of government while also finding ways to coordinate activities for the good of the entire region.
9. Construct four additional reed beds at the City's wastewater treatment facility to bring the facility to the full, 8-reed bed capacity anticipated as being necessary in the City's 2012 Facility Plan.

F. Transportation

GOAL: Maintain and expand, as appropriate, the network of roads, sidewalks and trails in and around the City of Mora so as to ensure the safe and effective movement of people and goods.

POLICIES:

1. Establish a logical vehicular circulation pattern based on a hierarchy of streets, appropriate for different traffic speeds, volumes and purposes, to move traffic to, through and within the City.
2. Control land use and development adjacent to major thoroughfares in order to strike the appropriate balance between the free flow of traffic and providing access to and from the City's downtown and other nearby commercial areas and neighborhoods.
3. Work with MNDOT on creating a plan to better integrate State Highways 23 and 65 with their adjacent land uses through the effective use of frontage or backage roads, pedestrian/trail crossings, landscaping and wayfinding signage.
4. Develop a city-wide funding, land acquisition and construction plan for the phased expansion and maintenance of a comprehensive system of sidewalks, bikeways, trails and pathways that more effectively links the City's commercial districts, residential neighborhoods and recreational sites.
5. Work with other units of government to promote an efficient and responsible public transit system.

G. Land Use

GOAL: Guide development in a manner which prevents land use conflicts and development inefficiencies while maintaining property values.

POLICIES:

1. Maintain and amend, as necessary, the City's "Land Use Map" to clearly communicate to the public those areas of the City deemed appropriate for future commercial, industrial, residential, public and open space uses. Identify targeted areas where mixed-use buildings (i.e. lower level commercial with residential above) or neighborhoods (i.e. areas that allow for both residential and limited commercial) are considered appropriate.
2. Review and amend, as necessary, City regulations to promote the goals of the Comprehensive Plan and the City's "Land Use Map".
3. Correct land use conflicts where they now occur through the promotion of private and public redevelopment, landscape buffering and other appropriate strategies.
4. Work to ensure that all major public and private decisions regarding land use are made with an understanding of the goals and framework of the City's Comprehensive Plan. Promote widespread knowledge of the Comprehensive Plan through a variety of distribution and education efforts.

H. Quality of Life

GOAL: Work to create a community that meets the needs of all residents regardless of age or economic status and which grows in a manner which is socially, economically and environmentally sustainable.

POLICIES:

1. Attract and retain businesses and industries which provide livable wages and benefits.
2. Promote and support a wide variety of housing options appropriate for every stage of life.
3. Provide or support the provision of a complete range of public services in an efficient and effective manner – including schools, medical and social services, and emergency and public safety services.
4. Promote a city which provides and maintains the infrastructure necessary for all modes of transportation needed by the City's residents and businesses.

GOAL: Continuously improve the general welfare of Mora's present and future residents, while respecting and protecting their individual choices.

POLICIES:

1. Consistently seek a balance between the interests of the individual and of the community.
2. Inject long range considerations into short term actions.
3. Facilitate the democratic process in decision making on land use development.

Implementation

The completion of this update of the Mora Comprehensive Plan represents a continuation of the City's efforts toward developing an ongoing comprehensive planning program. From this point, Mora will focus its efforts on implementing the Plan through modification and adoption of regulatory tools on a consistent basis.

The primary existing regulatory tools intended to implement the policies and goal of this Plan include the City's:

1. Capital Improvement Program;
2. Zoning Ordinance;
3. Subdivision Ordinance;
4. Shoreland Management Ordinance; and
5. Floodplain Management Ordinance.

While these will likely be the primary tools for implementation of the goals of the City's Comprehensive Plan, they are not the only tools. Education, coordination with other public and private entities to implement certain goals or policies and the choices elected officials make about day-to-day expenditures can all contribute to the realization of the City's land use goals. To be most effective over time, the steps undertaken to implement the Plan also need to be updated on a regular basis so that they are well-coordinated with the City's other efforts that relate to or impact land use decisions.

DRAFT

LAND USE PLAN

The Land Use Plan is simply a proposal for the future use of land with the ultimate goal of providing a pleasing, healthful and efficient urban environment in which to live, work and play. It does this by serving as a guide for public and private investment. The Land Use Plan for Mora is graphically illustrated on the Comprehensive Plan Land Use Map. Minnesota Statute 462.352 defines a land use plan as follows: "Land use plan means a compilation of policy statements, goals, standards, and maps, and action programs for guiding the future development of private and public property. The term includes a plan designating types of uses for the entire municipality as well as a specialized plan showing specific areas or specific types of land uses, such as residential, commercial, industrial, public or semipublic uses or any combination of such uses. A land use plan may also include the proposed densities for development."

The basis for the Land Use Plan are environmental considerations, existing land use, existing and proposed transportation routes, estimated population and economic growth, community needs and goals and planning principals which relate together land use, the transportation system and open space. The present incorporated area of Mora should be more than enough land area to accommodate the likely amount of population growth and anticipated land use requirements through 2030 and likely through 2040. The distribution of land uses for the present incorporated areas are shown in the Comprehensive Plan Land Use Map.

LAND USE PROPOSALS

Residential

Residential land use, as it is today, will be the dominant future urban land use. Major residential expansion areas will likely occur north of Lake Mora and in the southeast and southwest regions of the City. Redevelopment should be considered in the older residential neighborhoods to eliminate substandard housing. Three categories of urban residential land use are proposed: Low Density Residential consisting of one and two family dwelling units; Medium Density Residential consisting of three to eight units; and, High Density Residential consisting of nine or more units.

Mora Housing Projections

Population forecasts are the foundation of housing projections. Projected population divided by average household size indicates housing demand. A 3% vacancy rate is desirable to ensure an adequate supply of homes across the spectrum of housing styles and sizes. Therefore, total housing stock is slightly greater than occupied housing, plus vacant housing.

The following calculations project housing demand through 2040. The following assumptions included in the calculations that follow:

1. A vacancy rate of 3% is desirable.
2. Household sizes in Mora will continue to remain in the range of 2.15 to 2.25 persons per household.

Housing unit and acreage projections are based on the following formula:

1. $(\text{Population} / \text{household size of } 2.20) \times \text{vacancy rate of } 1.03 = \text{the number of housing units expected to be needed in the future. Subtracting the calculated existing number of housing units from this total results in the number of new housing units needed.}$
2. $\text{Housing units} \times 10,000 \text{ square feet} / 43,560 \text{ (square feet in an acre)} = \text{total number of acres needed to accommodate the new housing units.}$

The resulting calculations using these assumptions do not include streets, parks and other land needed to serve future residential uses. It also assumes that all new housing will need to be accommodated by development of previously undeveloped land rather than, for instance, the redevelopment of several adjacent single family homes into a more densely populated series of townhomes or apartments.

For these reasons and because many other variables will impact the need for additional land, these projections should be used only as general indications of the amount of land that will be necessary for future residential uses. Changes in any of the variables, i.e. population composition, household size, actual lot sizes developed for residential homes, the extent to which redevelopment of existing homes into more densely populated housing, and changes in the actual population, would result in a different set of projections.

Rather than attempting to project future populations in specific years, the following calculations lay out several different scenarios in terms of how quickly the City grows in its population and what that may mean for the need for additional land.

Table 22

Land Needs to Accommodate Residential Growth under Various Growth Scenarios – City of Mora

NOTE: Starting point is 2019 estimated population of 3,615.

Growth Scenario	2030 Resulting Population	2040 Resulting Population	Additional Housing Units Needed by 2040 @ 2.2 Persons per Household	Additional Acreage Needed by 2040 @ 10,000 sq ft per Dwelling Unit
Slower Growth (0.5%/year)	3,772	3,965	233.3	53.6
Historical Average since 1990 (0.81%/year)	3,902	4,230	357.3	82.0
Historical Average since 1940 (1.23%/year)	3,122	2,762	538.0	123.5
Moderate-Growth (2%/year)	4,440	5,412	910.8	209.1
Fast Growth (3.5%/year)	5,214	7,354	1,819.9	417.8
Very Fast Growth (5%/year)	6,108	9,948	3,034.6	696.6

Given that the City of Mora currently contains about 5.47 square miles of land above water, the current City boundaries contain about 3,500 acres of land. A very rough estimate of the amount of large-tract vacant land in the City of Mora’s current municipal boundaries is approximately 1000 acres. This does not include vacant land within the generally developed areas of the City, for which there is certainly additional vacant land available. At the same time, the 1,000 acre-estimate does not account for the need to develop around natural features such as streams, wetlands, ponds and steep hills or floodplains. Still, a very quick analysis suggests that the City’s current boundaries could accommodate the housing needed even if it were to grow at an annual rate far in excess of what it has seen in the past.

Commercial

Existing commercial uses are found in two major locations within the City. Commercial establishments are found along State Highways 23 and 65, which serves as the General Business District, and along Forest Avenue and Union Street, which serves as the Central Business District. The General Business District provides activities that are primarily highway or automobile oriented. Highway orientated commercial developments are to be clustered where practical and provided with adequate parking areas and served by service roads. The most recent commercial developments have occurred along State Highways 23 and 65. The Central Business District functions as "Main Street", providing a pedestrian oriented district that discourages highway oriented land uses. The Central Business District is the older of the two commercial areas. It is proposed that the Central Business District will maintain its role as the primary commercial district promoting retail and professional services. It is desired that both commercial zoning districts, the B-1 Central Business District and the B-2 General Business District, work in harmony with each other in a spirit of cooperation and connectedness for the benefit of both areas and the community as a whole. In an effort to connect these two commercial areas, the Forest Avenue corridor located between Union Street and Highway 65, is zoned for commercial use. This corridor was originally developed as a residential area, including many single family homes; however, as the residential uses are discontinued and ownership changes these properties are changing from residential use to commercial use.

Central Business District Improvements

Improvements that should be considered in the Central Business District include a sidewalk plan to ensure a continuous system connecting downtown businesses to each other and to surrounding residential neighborhoods, the promotion of continuous maintenance and improvement to downtown buildings (including rear entries to buildings, where they exist) and an examination of the best methods for addressing parking needs in the downtown area – whether that be with additional parking, less restrictive off-street parking regulations, the promotion of alternative methods of transportation or other appropriate measures.

General Business District Improvements

Improvements that should be considered in the General Business District include efforts to encourage additional landscaping and aesthetic improvements to businesses and parking areas. The City should also work with MNDOT to seek improved pedestrian crossings across the Snake River and across Highway 65, in particular, as most of the community's businesses providing "basic necessities" are located adjacent to or near Highway 65. For the purposes of this section, basic necessities can be defined as food, clothing, household equipment and furniture, medical facilities and the post office.

Industrial Land Use

Future industrial expansion is anticipated to take place in the Mora Industrial Park which is located in the northeast part of the City. In fact, the vast majority of land zoned for industrial use is located north of Highway 23 and east of Highway 65.

As the City's Industrial Park comes closer to being fully developed, potential areas for industrial uses to locate would include land near the southeast corner of the Highway 23 and 65 intersection (existing industrially zoned land) as well as areas closer to the southern intersection of Highways 23 and 65.

Public Land Use

Public land use refers to all publicly used, owned and operated sites and buildings. The amount of land used for public purposes is projected to increase substantially. Because of the overlapping nature of many public services provided by different governmental units, coordination is essential between the Mora Public School District, Kanabec County, adjacent townships, various State agencies and the City of Mora.

Major public land use proposals that warrant continued consideration include trail construction and recreational opportunities in the Snake River flood corridor, trail construction and improved pedestrian crossings across the Snake River and across Highway 65, improvements to recreational and social opportunities on Lake Mora's shoreline, further improvements to the Spring Lake area and other open space areas taking advantage where practical of low lands, streams, ponds, and other critical environmental areas. It is recommended that the City's parks and playgrounds be improved and expanded, where appropriate (i.e. the creation of a dog park and a new park east of Highway 65 are potential expansions that have been discussed by the City's Park Board in recent years), as well as the system of trails and paths for alternative transportation.

Land Use Compatibility

The primary purpose of this section is to evaluate the appropriateness of the existing land use arrangement and patterns in the City and to suggest guidelines for ensuring compatible relationships among the various categories of land use.

By ensuring the appropriate use of land, wasteful and inefficient partial arrangements can be avoided; the duplication of expensive facilities can be eliminated; and, the necessary facilities can more easily be programmed and provided. This section will endeavor to establish guidelines which will serve to identify various levels of compatibility in land use forms for Mora. These are designed to avoid repetition of existing types of inappropriate land use practices and to encourage the appropriate relationships.

Guidelines for Land Use Compatibility

In order to determine the compatibility of existing and proposed land uses with other land use forms, a systematic approach was developed. It places virtually all potential land use interrelationships into one of three basic categories. The categories are measured on a "compatibility scale." The three-level compatibility scale includes interrelationships that are deemed (1) desirable, (2) undesirable and (3) questionable. In considering a compatibility rating system, it should be noted that land use compatibility implies a two-way relationship. In instances where two different types of land uses are mutually beneficial and compatible with each other, they have been classified as "desirable." Where neither of the two land uses is in a beneficial relationship it has been classified as "undesirable." In those instances where only one form of land use may benefit from proximity with another land use, the interrelationship has been classified as "questionable."

Perhaps the best example of a desirable type of land use compatibility is the one that residential land use forms. From the residential standpoint it is desirable to have recreation, parks and open space located in close proximity to residential areas. Conversely, it is desirable to have recreation, parks and open space located in close proximity to their primary users.

Another example of a desirable land use relationship is found between high density residential use and commercial facilities. Here the rationale involves both the question of proximity of commercial services to high density residential areas and the realization that apartments and other forms of multi-family residential development frequently form a desirable buffer between traffic-generating commercial uses and less intense residential uses. When considering compatible land use relationships it should be remembered that a given form of land use is categorically assumed to be a "desirable" neighbor of a similar land use form.

Both light and heavy industrial forms are classified as "undesirable neighbors" of low density and medium density residential land uses. This rating was derived through the recognition that the various characteristics of industrial development are generally conflicting with the atmosphere sought in residential areas. Similarly, neither low density nor medium density residential land use forms benefit industrial development by being its neighbor. Undesirable land use relationships are also found between low density residential forms and utility rights-of-way which are generally undesirable in residential areas. Conversely, these facilities do not benefit by close proximity to residential areas.

Commercial activities (highway oriented) as well as recreational and open space forms are considered as "questionable" neighbors of heavy industry because proximity benefits one land use category but not the other. For example, commercial, open space and recreational lands may represent a "desirable" buffer around heavy industry, but most of the land use relationships placed in the "questionable" category are examples of relationships which benefit one of the land use forms but not the other.

Examination of Table 23 indicates that one land use, woodlands, is considered a desirable or compatible type of land use of all other land use forms. This reflects the aesthetic quality of woodlands as a characteristic desirable in virtually any type of development. It is also indicative that woodlands are a desirable buffer. Subject to limitations of any generalization, it may be observed that virtually any kind of land use can be compatible with virtually any other type of use if a buffer of woodlands of the appropriate scale separates the two land uses.

Application of compatibility ratings presented in Table 23 serve as a useful guideline in promoting orderly land use arrangements as well as in identifying areas of the City where land use conflicts already exist. Since the figure summarizes the compatibility ratings, it is subject to the limitations inherent in any form of generalization. Undoubtedly, there are specific instances that can be cited in the City where the compatibility ratings on the chart appear to be unduly harsh in view of the quality of development and other factors peculiar to specific sites. On the other hand, there are no doubt specific instances where the compatibility ratings are too generous. They may imply harmonious relationships when in reality conflicts exist. Nevertheless, despite these inherent limitations, it is believed that the information contained in the figure serves as a useful tool for both guiding and evaluating community development.

In addition to using the compatibility ratings listed in Table 23 to identify existing inconsistencies of land use, the ratings can and should be used in developing land use planning and zoning policies as well as in reviewing zoning proposals. In this respect, the figure will be used as a guide for land use planning.

It is recommended that Table 23 be utilized by the City as a guide in reaching decisions concerning land uses. In such a way, land use problem areas associated with conflicts and compatibility can be avoided and beneficial relationships fostered. Projected over a long term, the avoidance of land use conflicts will seem a natural objective designed to achieve harmony between areas of the community.

COMMUNITY FACILITIES AND PUBLIC SERVICES PLAN

Minnesota Statute 462.352 defines a community facilities plan as follows: "Community facilities plan means a compilation of policy statements, goals, standards, maps and action programs for guiding the future development of the public or semipublic facilities of the municipality such as recreational, educational and cultural facilities."

Water System

A Water System Study was completed by Short Elliot Hendrickson Inc. in July 1994. The purpose of the study was to analyze the City's existing water distribution system and to assess the City's water requirements for the next 20 years. Based on 1994 demographic projections, this study found that the City of Mora should have adequate water capacity to facilitate growth through approximately 2020.

The City's water distribution system consists of approximately 35 miles of water main. Mora's water system consists of three wells and three storage tanks – one 150,000 gallon elevated tank, one 500,000 gallon storage tank and a 50,000 gallon underground storage tank. The City also operates its own water treatment plant.

The existing water system serves approximately 1,249 customers, including residential units and commercial and industrial establishments. Present domestic water demands and fire protection requirements are satisfactory. The present system is able to support 400 new residential units. The three largest water customers include Regency of Minnesota (Kenwood Manufactured Home Park), Welia Health and Mora Acquisitions (Edgewood Manufactured Home Park).

Sanitary Sewer

Mora's sanitary sewer system consists of a collection system of over 36 miles of gravity sewer line and approximately two miles of force main. The system utilizes nine lift stations and a treatment plant. The capacity of the treatment plant is 837,000 gallons per day, with an average demand of 450,000 gallons per day. Treatment is accomplished by oxidation ditch process with final discharge into the Snake River. Nearly all developed areas of the City are served by the sanitary sewer system. Expansion of the system can be accomplished by providing gravity sewer extensions or lift stations to serve the entire incorporated area. The treatment capacity can support an additional 400 residential units.

In the updated Facility Plan dated December 27, 2012 the projected 2034 average wet weather flow is 837,000 gpd. However, the WWTF is only permitted for an average wet weather flow of 800,000 gpd. It was known there is significant inflow and infiltration (I&I) to the collection system and the Facility Plan indicated the City would do enough I&I reduction in the collection system to remove at least 37,000 gpd to remain under the 800,000 gpd at the projected flows. Abandonment of the TH 65 lift station in the fall of 2020 should accomplish the needed reduction in I&I.

The Facility Plan also indicated that eight reed beds are required at full capacity for sludge disposal. Prior to bidding it was decided that four reed beds were sufficient for the current flows and loads (and only four reed beds were built), but understood that if the flow or sludge quantities increased, additional beds would be required. The estimated construction cost for the eight reed beds in 2012 was around $1,000,000 - $1,500,000. According to the construction cost index for Minneapolis (Mortenson Construction) construction costs have risen by 29% since 2012. Some of the most notable increases have been in reinforcement steel, cast-in-place concrete, and earthwork which are all included in the construction of reed beds. That would push the estimated construction cost for the eight reed beds to around $1,300,000 - $1,900,000 today, with the construction of just four reed beds at roughly half of that. It should be noted that estimate does not include any engineering, mobilization or mark-ups, contingency, or other administrative costs.

Storm Sewer

Mora has an underground storm sewer system separate from the sanitary sewer system. Storm drainage runoff in developed areas of the City is facilitated by streets having curb and gutter, catch basins, culverts and drainage ditches. A storm water utility was established in 2005 to manage storm water projects. A monthly fee is charged to all properties to pay for this service.

Floodplain Management

Including and in addition to the floodplain districts established by the federal government, the City contains several areas where flooding occurs on a regular basis. Many of these areas include existing dwellings and other structures which are at risk of damages from flooding. To prevent unnecessary harm to property and persons, the City regulates development in the flood hazard areas through the Floodplain Management Ordinance contained in the City Code.

The Floodplain Management Ordinance regulates development in the flood hazard areas of the City. Flood hazard areas are subject to periodic inundation, which may result in the loss of life and property; health and safety hazards; disruption of commerce and governmental services; extraordinary public expenditures for flood protection and relief; and, impairment of the tax base. It is the purpose of the ordinance to promote the public health, safety, and general welfare by minimizing losses and disruptions. The ordinance is also intended to preserve the natural characteristics and functions of watercourses and floodplains in order to moderate flood and stormwater impacts, improve water quality, reduce soil erosion, protect aquatic and riparian habitat, provide recreational opportunities, provide aesthetic benefits and enhance community and economic development.

The City's previous Floodplain Management Ordinance was adopted in 1997. Recognizing the increasing number of local flooding events and the fact that the ordinance had become outdated, the Planning Commission began the process of updating the ordinance in 2019. Like the 1997 ordinance, the proposed update was largely based on guidance provided by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR); however, the Planning Commission proposed, with encouragement from the DNR, to create a new flood district known as the Flood Prone District. In order to prevent unnecessary harm to property and persons in the Flood Prone District, the Planning Commission first developed a map, known as the City of Mora Flood Prone Areas Map, to identify all flood prone properties and then developed a series of recommendations for new construction and improvements in the area of the property identified as being flood prone. The City Council adopted the updated Floodplain Management Ordinance, including the establishment of the Flood Prone District and corresponding City of Mora Flood Prone Areas Map, in February 2021.

Electrical Power Plant

The City of Mora owns and operates an electrical distribution system and power plant through Mora Municipal Utilities (MMU). The City, represented by MMU, is also a member of the Southern Minnesota Municipal Power Agency (SMMPA). SMMPA provides the power and energy used by MMU to meet the needs of the City and its residents. SMMPA has a diverse portfolio of electric generation facilities that include coal, natural gas, wind, solar and biomass. In 2020, SMMPA announced plans to retire the Sherburne County Unit #3 coal plant in 2030 and replace it primarily with wind and solar resources resulting in a generation portfolio that is 80 percent carbon-free in 2030. This will represent a 90 percent reduction in carbon emissions compared to 2005 levels. The City also partners with SMMPA to provide energy efficiency programs for homes and businesses and to provide public electric vehicle charging in Mora.

The City's power plant is under contract to SMMPA and is used when dispatched by the Midcontinent Independent System Operator (MISO) instructions to SMMPA. The plant capacity is 14 megawatts, which is sufficient to meet the energy demands of the City, and can be operated independent of SMMPA and MISO when needed in emergencies to maintain power to the City. The plant is a dual fuel plant that operates on Natural Gas and diesel fuel that is blended to as much as 20% bio-fuel. In 2012, SMMPA, in conjunction with the East Central Solid Waste Commission installed a 1.6 megawatt generator at the local landfill that burns the methane from the landfill. The power from this generator is brought into the City on the distribution system owned by MMU.

Schools

According to “KEN-A-BIG The Story of Kanabec County” written by Frank Ziegler in 1977, ten children comprised the entire population of Mora’s common school district no. 9 when it was organized in June 1883. School was held in a room of a building at 100 Maple Avenue E. The high school also had its start on Maple Avenue E., in 1890, located immediately west of the present day high school facility. The original high school building was demolished in 1935, following construction of a new high school in 1917 and repurposing for other school needs.

Today Mora Public Schools has two school facilities located in Mora, Mora Elementary School serving grades Pre K - 6 and Mora High School serving grades 7 - 12 and housing the Alternative Learning Center (ALC). Mora Elementary School (MES) was constructed in 1996 and was the first school facility to be constructed on the school district's 9th Street E. campus. At the time of construction, the facility was known as Trailview Elementary and it served grades 3 - 6. The facility was expanded in 2017 to house the former Fairview Elementary School which served grades Pre K - 2. Mora High School (MHS), located in Mora's downtown area on Maple Avenue E., was originally constructed in 1917 with additions in the 1930s, 1950s, 1970s and 1980s. The Maple Avenue E. facility became quite aged, difficult to maintain, and, in some aspects, unsafe. In May 2020 voters in the Mora School District approved a referendum to construct a new high school facility on the school district's 9th Street E. campus. Construction began in 2021 and is scheduled to be completed in summer 2023. The 9th Street E. campus, nearly 150 acres in size, is home to other school facilities including tennis courts, ball fields, a track and football field, as well as Welia Health Wellness Center and Vasaloppet Nordic Ski Center. When construction of MHS is complete, all of the school district's facilities and athletic fields will be located on the 9th Street E. campus.

TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES PLAN

Minnesota Statutes 462.352 describes a transportation plan as follows: "Transportation Plan means a compilation of policy statements, goals, standards, maps and action programs for guiding the future development of the various modes of transportation of the municipality and its environs, such as streets and highways, mass transit, railroads, air transportation, trucking and water transportation, and includes a major thoroughfare plan."

Major Thoroughfares

Forming the backbone of the Transportation Plan are State Highways 23 and 65. These thoroughfares are designed to carry large volumes of traffic. Traffic count data in Table 28 shows that the trend for these two categories is a steady increase in traffic over time. The Minnesota Department of Transportation does not anticipate State Highways 23 and 65 reaching capacity within the next 20 years.

The past, present and future traffic counts (Annual Average Daily Traffic -- AADT) for Highways 23 and 65 have been provided by MNDOT and are listed below:

Local Thoroughfares

These roads are the next step down in speed, volume and accessibility. Their primary function is to move traffic, although in a community the size of Mora, they may also provide access to property. Most of the indicated local thoroughfares shown in the Transportation Plan are either State Highways, County State Aid Highways or County Roads.

Collector Streets

Traffic service and land access are equally important functions of collector streets. Collectors generally pass through neighborhoods collecting traffic from local streets and distributing to the thoroughfares. Many local streets in Mora now act as collector streets. This is generally undesirable because it allows through traffic in residential areas. An established system of collectors eliminates the use of local streets serving as collectors.

Local Streets

These streets are intended solely for the purpose of providing access to local property. Vehicle volumes should be light with low speeds. Local streets should be designed to discourage their use as short cuts between collectors or as alternate collector streets. Local streets are not shown on the Transportation Plan.

2005 MNDOT Study

In 2005 the Minnesota Department of Transportation (MN DOT), in conjunction with the City of Mora and the East Central Regional Development Commission, undertook a transportation study of the State Highway 23 and 65 corridor. After reviewing traffic counts, projected traffic counts, community input, traffic crash data and other information, several long-term improvements were proposed for the corridor. Illustrations of these proposed improvements are attached as Map 1 and Map 2. For more information about the State Highway 23 and 65 corridor and the 2005 transportation study, refer to the Highway 23 & 65 Corridor Study in the City of Mora in Kanabec County.

Airport

The Mora Municipal Airport is located approximately 60 miles north of the Minneapolis/St. Paul metro area. The airport serves a 60-minute drive time radius around the community up to McGregor and Moose Lake to the north, St. Cloud to the west, Forest Lake to the south, and Burnett Wisconsin to the east. The Mora Municipal Airport is a public-use airport owned by the City of Mora and located two miles northeast of the downtown district. The airport and all associated property are located entirely within Mora City limits. The Airport Advisory Board meets monthly to make recommendations for the general oversight of the airport, including financial planning, growth, and development. Day-to-day operations of the airport are managed largely by the Public Works Department.

The airport is home to 30 based aircraft: 28 single-engine, one jet, and one helicopter. The airport is served by one paved runway and one turf crosswind runway. The paved runway, Runway 17/35, is 4,794 feet long by 75 feet wide. The runway serves single-engine recreational and business aircraft, agricultural spray aircraft, some multi-engine aircraft, and small business jets.

A new turf runway, Runway 11/29, was constructed in 2017. The turf runway is 3,151 feet long by 80 feet wide. The runway is located on the north end of the airfield and serves small single-engine and agricultural spray aircraft.

A 20-year Master Plan was completed for the airport in 2020. The purpose of the Master Plan was to determine the facilities needed to meet the project aviation demand in the 20-year planning period. As part of the study, aviation activity forecasts were prepared based on responses to user surveys, the airport's service area, and analysis of local and national general aviation trends and socioeconomic data. The number of based aircraft is forecasted to increase from 30 in 2019 to 48 by 2039. A takeoff and a landing are considered two aircraft operations at an airport. Aircraft operations are expected to increase at an annual average growth rate of 1.36%, from 9,192 in 2019 to 12,055 in 2039.

The focus at the airport between 2009 and 2017, was construction of the crosswind runway. Since that time, the demand for hangar space has increased at the airport. The Master Plan was updated to document this increase in users and the potential for hangar expansion. The next 20 years at the airport will focus on maintaining existing pavement and facilities, constructing additional taxiways for construction of new hangars, and monitoring the airspace around the airport to avoid obstructions and continue to meet MnDOT and FAA standards.

Trail System

The City has constructed and maintains approximately 5.2 miles of paved, multi-use trail extending from the Kanabec County Historical Society north to the Mora Public Schools campus on 9th Street, east across State Highway 65 to the Spring Lake area and south to Maple Avenue E. The most recently constructed section of trail is located on the northern portion of Wood Street N. and 9th Street adjacent to the Mora Public Schools campus. The City has identified additional sections of trail to be added to the system which will ultimately create a looped trail system.

The Park Board first adopted a Trail Plan in March 2008 which identified existing trail sections as well as proposed sections to be added to the system. The goal of the plan was to ultimately create a looped trail system. The City Council adopted an updated Trail Plan in July 2021. While the 2021 plan still focuses on creating a looped trail system, it also focuses on providing trail access to areas of the City located south of the Snake River. Providing safe pedestrian access across the river has become increasingly important with increased development south of the river and increased vehicle-pedestrian accidents on or near the Snake River Bridge.

The Trail Plan is illustrated on Map 3.

PARKS AND RECREATIONAL SITES

Mora has several parks and recreational sites, including 22 sites described below (listed in alphabetical order). Table 31 provides an inventory of amenities at each of the sites.

Canoe Landing

This scenic site is still fairly primitive, with a minimal amount of amenities. It has considerable frontage on the Snake River, with parking and access for canoes. Shoreline stabilization and regeneration with native plants was done in 2006. This site is used primarily by canoeists, fisherpeople and picnickers.

Fox Run Park

This undeveloped park is centrally located in the Fox Run neighborhood. The land, which was originally platted as two single family residential lots, was conveyed to the City from the State of Minnesota in 2019 for park purposes. The City's Park Board is actively planning a park to serve neighborhood youth.

Jaycees Park

Built in the early 1980's, this park is situated on a section of the Oakwood Cemetery property at the north end of the City. Its main use is as a softball facility, but also offers play equipment for young spectators. The park is used heavily during the summer months.

Kanabec County Fairgrounds

This 23 acre site, under the control of the Kanabec County Agricultural Society, is the site of the annual Kanabec County Fair. While it does have large open areas, buildings, grandstands and arenas, it is greatly underused and is sorely in need of updating. The Kanabec County Fair continues to be the largest event at the Fairgrounds.

Kanabec County Historical Society

Though primarily used as a museum, the History Center, through the use of volunteers, does keep open a set of hiking and skiing trails along the Snake River. The History Center puts on a number of other programs, including Time Line Programs, festivals, fairs, and other classes and events to use the facility and expertise.

Keystone Park

This little known park, located on the north side of the City, serves as the trailhead to the City's trail system. The park offers access to the historic keystone bridge and incredible scenic views of Spring Lake and surrounding wetland areas.

Library Park (Also called Downtown Park, Bell Tower Park or City Park)

This fully developed park on the shores of Lake Mora provides the City with a valuable recreational area because of its facilities and location. It offers a mix of passive and active recreation adjacent to the downtown area, including tennis and pickleball courts, basketball courts, volleyball court, picnic shelter and picnic tables, a play area and a gazebo for events and live entertainment. The park projects a positive impression of the City by the well maintained facilities and neat appearance. The park has an adequate amount of open space and should be considered fully developed, with the remaining open space being part of its appeal.

Lions Park / Kids Kingdom

This park is technically not a City park, but is under the control of the Kanabec County Agricultural Society and the Mora Lions Club. Through an agreement, the Kids Kingdom portion of this park, as well as lawn mowing and trash pickup, is maintained by the City of Mora. The main feature of this park is the large, community built play area called Kids Kingdom. This facility is highly used and admired and has become a regional draw. Other main features to this park are the picnic shelter, restrooms and a view of the 25-foot tall Dala Horse.

Mora Aquatic Center

Open during June, July and August, the large, heated public pool is a valuable asset to the areas recreational needs. Its unique features include a lap pool, three slides, diving area and zero entry pool with spray features. The professional staff provide swim lessons and lifeguard training.

Mora Civic Center / MAYRA Complex

Located on the Kanabec County Fairgrounds, the Mora Civic Center, and adjacent MAYRA ice rinks and buildings offer the opportunity for indoor and outdoor hockey, ice skating and other events. While the Mora Civic Center is primarily used for sporting events during winter months, it is used year-round for all manners of events.

Mora Community Garden

Managed by the Kanabec County Master Gardeners, this site is located on City owned land and offers garden plots to community members for a small fee. The community garden is typically open mid-May to mid-October.

Mora Elementary

This school facility, located on the north end of the City, offers first class baseball and softball fields, practice fields, soccer fields, an outdoor track, tennis courts and playground equipment.

Mora High School

The indoor gyms and basketball courts, outdoor track, football fields, and tennis courts offer opportunity for students and residents alike to watch or participate in a number of sporting, social and cultural events.

Oak Park

This small park is located within the Edgewood Manufactured Home Park neighborhood, providing residents with various play equipment, a half-basketball court and a storm shelter.

Ole Park

This park has little recreational use or potential, with over 75% of its land being on State right-of-way, but is valuable as a centrally located site to display the Sister City Monument with Mora, Sweden, the Skier statue, and a display area for the American, State, and Swedish Flags. Little additional change is planned for this site.

Peterson Park

This little known park has been part of the park system for over 30 years. It is an undeveloped site that borders Lake Mora and Highway 65. It is mainly hilly and treed, and has little access or use at this time.

Skateboard & Bike Parks

Located adjacent to the Mora Aquatic Center, the Skate and Bike Parks provide space designed specifically for skateboarders and bikers and offer several pieces of equipment. While the parks are open to all ages and skill levels, the sites are highly utilized by the community's older youth.

Sunrise Park

This small park on the east side of the City offers a large sheltered picnic area with a volleyball court.

Trail System

The City has constructed and maintains approximately 5.2 miles of paved multi-use trail, extending from the Kanabec County Historical Society north to the Mora Public Schools campus, east across State Highway 65 to the Spring Lake area and south to Maple Avenue E. The most recently constructed section of trail is located on the northern portion of Wood Street N. and 9th Street adjacent to the Mora Public Schools campus. The City has identified additional sections of trail to be added to the system which will ultimately create a looped trail system.

Welia Health Wellness Center

Connected to Mora Elementary, the Welia Health Wellness Center was constructed in 2017 through a partnership between Independent School District 332 and Welia Health (then FirstLight Health System). The facility offers an indoor elevated walking track and various group classes. The facility is open to the community, but membership is required.

In addition to the numerous parks and recreational sites listed above, the community prides itself on its annual festivals and activities. Some of these festivals and activities include, but are not limited to, Mora's Music in the Park, Mora Municipal Airport Fly-In, Fall Fest, the Mid-Summer Swedish Festival, and the Mora Classic Series (Vasaloppet Cross Country Ski Race, Snake River Canoe Race, Mora Half Marathon and Mora Bike Tour).

COMPREHENSIVE PLAN

The Comprehensive Plan is primarily concerned with the current incorporated area of Mora where in a legal sense, jurisdictional controls can be exercised to achieve community goals. However, in a practical sense, Mora extends far beyond its corporate limits. The Mora community encompasses approximately 5.47 square miles. Because the Mora planning area extends beyond Mora's current corporate limits, coordination with adjacent townships and the County should be encouraged.

The Comprehensive Plan is concerned with a 10-20 year time period. It provides a process for preparing for the future. Expansion areas for each land use category are designated on the plan to meet the needs of projected population and future industrial and commercial development.

The Comprehensive Plan Land Use Map, attached as Map 4, summarizes graphically the long range proposals for major land uses, circulation, open space and certain community facilities. The Comprehensive Plan Land Use Map is not precise as to areas or locations shown, rather it attempts to communicate the inter-relationships of the various Plan elements in both space and time. Integral within the Comprehensive Plan Land Use Map are the elements of a Land Use Plan, Transportation Plan and Community Facilities Plan.

IMPLEMENTATION

The Comprehensive Plan gains in value and meaning as its proposals are implemented by private and public actions to achieve community goals. Implementation of the Plan is part of the on-going planning process through various ordinances and programs.

Zoning

Zoning regulates the use of land and building as well as the size and placement of buildings within the municipality. It interprets the land use patterns established by the Land Use Plan into ordinance form for legal administration. Zoning districts are delineated on the City's Official Zoning Map and the type of development permitted is defined in the Zoning Ordinance.

Subdivision Controls

Subdivision controls regulate the manner in which land, whether for residential, commercial or industrial use, is made ready for use. Minimum land development design standards are set forth in ordinance form, concerning the width and construction of streets, utilities, length and depth of blocks, open space dedication and provision for easements.

Coordination

Coordination of the various units of government involved in the Mora planning process is facilitated by a published Comprehensive Plan. Using the Plan, duplication of effort and conflicting plans can be avoided between the various units of government involved in community development.

Capital Improvement Program

A Capital Improvements Program is a combined planning-financial operation. It is a moving schedule of major municipal projects to be accomplished during a five, ten, or twenty year period. This assists the City Council in preparing its annual budget by identifying needed public improvements, assigning costs, establishing priorities for improvements, and identifying sources of funds. Determining development timing for plan implementation is a function of the Capital Improvements Program.

Planning Administration

Comprehensive Plan implementation is closely tied to day-to-day planning administration. Planning administration includes the decision making process of the governing body, citizens, private developers and others concerned with development and land use. Planning Commission review of development proposals and coordination of planning activities are major aspects of planning administration.

APPENDIX A: COMMUNITY SURVEY

In the Fall of 2019, a community survey was developed by the Comprehensive Plan Committee and distributed with the City's Fall newsletter and made available on the City's webpage for the purpose of garnering feedback and input on a variety of issues from not only residents of Mora, but also those who do not reside within the City limits but have a vested interest in the community.

This document is a culmination of the survey process and is meant to be a useable resource for the data collected to provide guidance to the City Council, Planning Commission, other boards and commissions and staff of the City of Mora.

APPENDIX A1: COMMUNITY SURVEY – SURVEY INSTRUMENT

COMMUNITY SURVEY CITY OF MORA COMPREHENSIVE PLAN UPDATE FALL 2019

The City of Mora is in the process of developing a Comprehensive Plan, which will guide development and land use planning for the next 10 years. The Comprehensive Plan is a tool for the city to use to plan for the future of our community. It contains the core values of the residents and provides a vision for future growth and development. A Comprehensive Plan will assist in long term planning efforts, keep the core community values in place despite outside forces, control growth to areas that can sustain growth, create and encourage community and economic development and can focus the various groups in the city on sustainable and achievable goals. In addition, it will provide a “blueprint” for the City Council, the Planning Commission, and city staff on how to achieve the long-term goals created for the community.

Please take a moment to complete this survey giving us your opinions on the current state and the future of Mora. When you have completed it, please mail it back or drop it off at Mora City Hall. Each individual can complete a survey -- extra copies are available at City Hall.

Schools is huge because people look at that when moving but they also look at medical/L.E. But then if you have a great looking downtown and fun shops (we have the fun shops) then people love to come (we do have lots of lakes so I think of Nisswa)	9/25/2019 3:48 PM

20	Mostly Yes: Most facilities are open at a reasonable business hour time and stay open till after business hour so people have a chance after work to shop them.	10/9/2019 4:41 PM
21	not many here	10/8/2019 2:17 PM

25	Mostly YES: but very little to choose from	10/4/2019 6:13 PM
26	The stores close as other are getting off work too.	10/4/2019 6:07 PM
27	Mostly YES: The way the question is presented "yes" is my answer. I would like to add that "mostly no" works as well because there are no longer many businesses in town.	10/4/2019 5:52 PM
28	We work and have a family. It's tough to get to somewhere by 5 or 6	10/4/2019 5:18 PM
29	answered YES: Being retired, I can go anytime of the day.	10/3/2019 1:55 PM
30	I teach and coach so I am at school from 7:00 am to 5:30 pm everyday. If I want/need to get something done, I have to take a personal day off of work, especially if it is government related.	10/3/2019 1:41 PM
31	Mostly Yes: Not many stores open in Mora anymore. No clothing stores, except thrift stores.	10/1/2019 4:17 PM
32	Most businesses close by 5 or aren't open weekends, inconvenient hours on weekends, etc. Which is understandable, don't stay open when not busy. Restaurants that aren't open past 1pm or that don't open until 3pm. Again, understandable, but then restaurants are open when nothing else on main street is open.	9/27/2019 4:25 AM
33	Its mora if you need it they dont have it!! If it's late nothings open. Again it's a joke!	9/27/2019 12:43 AM
34	We work during the day, we need downtown stores to be open late at least one night a week for us, ie Friday night or Saturday night - otherwise we have to go to other communities with larger stores. We would prefer to spend our money locally, but business owners now-a-days want a work-life balance and not spend their life working especially on Saturdays.	9/26/2019 8:47 PM
35	Most are only open 8am-5pm	9/26/2019 7:09 PM
36	When I return to the area after work everything is closed	9/25/2019 6:06 PM
37	This town offers nothing of value but has stations. Downtown stores never open. Products I need never in stock	9/25/2019 5:44 PM
38	Not sure other than the dollar stores what there even is for retail	9/25/2019 4:29 PM
39	Too many of the downtown businesses close in later afternoon and early evening. Many of the consumers are working during that time or commuting back and forth from work. When the businesses close in Mora it drives the consumers to do their buying in neighboring communities.	9/25/2019 4:27 PM

40	Inconvenient business hours, closed by the time I get home from work commute	9/25/2019 4:25 PM
41	Most local retailers are closed for business when I get home after a commute from work. Hard to shop local when noone is open or only open Saturdays from 8-Noon.	9/25/2019 4:04 PM

However, there are a few merchants who seem more inclined to close early on Saturdays, not open, or 5 o'clock weekdays.

(I was almost run over by a kid on a bike riding fast on the sidewalk on Union Street by Railroad Ave and was injured slightly just by trying to avoid being hit, although that was a far better outcome than had I been hit because I would have been severely injured. Not happy!) And this also speaks to the parents, teachers, and peers who need to teach and support each other to be safe and follow the rules that are there for a reason ...	10/4/2019 6:54 AM

76	I think our current trails and roadways are fine for pedestrians and bicyclists. There are a few areas where if a pedestrian is on the roadway walking it might get a little tight if you meet another car, but learn to share the road, we don't live in a big metropolis, we live in small town Mora.	9/27/2019 4:35 AM
77	Focus that money on streets and stop wasting tax payer money!	9/27/2019 12:46 AM
78	Fix the uneven and almost dangerous sidewalks on Union, add sidewalks to the bikepath/trail areas that are concurrent with city streets or do a better job of maintaining the trails. PATCH and/or REPAIR the crumbling paths. Pedestrian wise, many city sidewalks have uneven spots that one trips on if not careful, this also creates holding areas for ice in cold months. Very dangerous for an elderly person trying to get exercise.	9/26/2019 8:52 PM
79	There's only one crosswalk/light on 65, and sections without any service road or sidewalk. Im amazed more People don't get hurt attempting to cross the highway.	9/26/2019 7:14 PM

86	Number one concern is pedestrians walking along 65/23 with no barrier from traffic. Make the sidewalks connect through city streets, currently there are some sidewalks that just end without connecting to another sidewalk area and are useless for walking. Making the city more walkable is the number one improvement the city could make for health and safety.	9/25/2019 4:29 PM

49	You can't purchase shoes in Mora any longer since Shopko is no longer here. There may be one or 2 choices at Dollar General, or something used at the thrift store but used shoes are terrible for your feet. The cost of groceries in this town is atrocious. 14	worst then it is now	10/24/2019 1:23 PM
15	The city is going to look very typical of every other small town with Kwik Trip, Dollar General, etc. We need another retail store where Shopko was.	10/24/2019 1:17 PM
16	A community that is willing to grow and explore within; trails and roads to everywhere to meet all stages of life.	10/23/2019 2:47 PM
17	Miss having a store like ShopCo to fill in shopping needs. Like that we have changes going on ie. - hospital, new stores. Keep bringing in businesses.	10/22/2019 6:42 PM

30	a bit bigger	10/15/2019 7:25 PM
31	I do not think Mora will need nor can afford 3 new schools. The trend is less children born, more private schools, many public school systems downsizing or closing. New large schools are a long term financial mistake.	10/15/2019 7:18 PM

53	It could be a thriving artisan destination because everyone in the younger generations makes items and grows real food in sustainable ways. The rest of the world is out of clean water and soon oxygen as well. Eyes will turn here. We can lead other communities to become sustainable or be bought by Nestles.	10/11/2019 6:04 PM

66	In ten years Mora should have a new high school on 9th Street. The old high school will be torn down and in its place will be a very nice housing complex with a beautiful lakefront park. A pedestrian / bike pathway will connect the existing pathway at 65 & 9th Street around the east and south sides of Mora Lake. Mora should also have its own clothing / department store. Another pipe dream: Mora Municipal Utilities should buy or lease enough acreage for a solar power garden, lessening dependence on other generators.	10/9/2019 7:16 PM

93	Still a small-town extended-family-feel community with less than 5,000 people or so, and such a cool place to be that all generations feel at home and young adults love their life here. A destination for creative arts experiences/shopping and holistic healing opportunities. Economic sustainability and balance, with innovative employee-owned anchor businesses that leverage technology to provide goods and services collaboratively with other local businesses; our success is a model for other small communities to thrive. Property taxes, if not completely abolished for residential homesteads, are transparently based on the real cost of residential services provided while the taxes on business are fair and still are enough to cover the actual services they receive. Leadership embraces change AND critical thinking/checks and balances, and exists to empower all citizens; the citizen-created Town Charter is inclusive, heartfelt, and expansive—the compass used to guide us into our future. (and yes, I'm still sore about my property tax quadrupling in the 3 years I've been here; why are my tax payments more than my mortgage now? Something's gotta give!)	10/4/2019 8:19 AM

100	I would love to see a more bustling center with businesses and activities but in reality, I imagine they will build a bypass to ease congestion on 65/23 and the town will turn into a ghost town.	10/3/2019 1:49 PM

1	Mora offers very little to the young who grow up here. When they graduate there isn't any reason to come back.	11/18/2019 7:09 PM
2	Nice for us to give our thoughts about our community.	11/15/2019 7:34 PM
3	Why not ask "Of people you know who have moved INTO Mora, what do you think their main reasons were?"	11/15/2019 5:19 PM
4	Restriction of parking vehicles on street. E.g. Vehicles only used in summer months and parked 24 x 7 until snow falls (only to be used occasionally). Speed bumps on some residential streets (children walk to school and people think the streets are for speeding, cutting corners, driving in the middle of the street and not paying attention to pedestrians). Using side streets for thru traffic.	11/15/2019 5:03 PM
5	Mora is the last stop on 65 heading north until McGregor. I believe we need to do whatever it takes to convince good businesses to open/expand in our town. If we make it convenient for people to stop and shop here they will. We have a strategic location for anyone heading north let's take advantage of it. Every dollar spent means more revenue for our community. Common sense Will tell you if we have more revenue and we have the key to improve and build on our city.	11/5/2019 4:10 PM
6	The farmers' market is a joke. I would use public transportation if it ran from Mora - St. Cloud - metro - Duluth - Brainerd. Not much for sidewalks in residential areas.	10/29/2019 1:44 PM
7	Shopko was a great loss for Mora. I shopped there at least once a week. Too much ordering online!	10/24/2019 1:18 PM
8	People would come but high school is no place to have children grow and learn. Library is old but what a place we have next door, Mora Lake, Mora Lake needs to be embraced and built upon!	10/23/2019 2:48 PM
9	We were not born into this city. We adopted it. We love that it was a city founded on pride and heritage and we are doing our part to revitalize it. I only have one point to make: I would like to see a 20-year comprehensive plan to convert "downtown" into something that will continue to generate revenue for both the business owners and for the city. One suggestion would be to convert "downtown" into "Old Town Mora / Gamla Stan Mora" full of quaint Scandinavian ambiance and appeal. This will require effort and funds from the city, not just the business owners who is already barely making ends meet. A few of the following ideas may work but I'm sure there are many more practices that have proven successful in other communities: festivals; thriving farmers markets; cobble stone sidewalks; well maintained historic buildings; monuments worthy of photographing; usable lake access with parking near the downtown area. Fall Fest was a huge success! I would love to see it expanded in the future! These types of events, and others like it, are key in sustaining the like of Old Town Mora. I am proud to call this town home.	10/22/2019 6:55 PM
10	None of my children have settled here. All down in the cities. Mostly due to lack of jobs that could be gained to do with their college degrees. Many towns are starting to have dog parks. I would really like to see one here in Mora. My yard is not fenced and my dog would enjoy being able to run free at a dog park.	10/22/2019 6:44 PM
11	Stay honest.	10/22/2019 6:25 PM

16	Beginning to feel "taxed out" of this town. Taxes have doubled in the 6 yrs we've lived here. We will have to move if it continues at this rate.	10/15/2019 7:41 PM

18	Has the city considered designating some handicap street parking - maybe in front of Ace or the Crystal? There is always jaywalking there - maybe mobility issues are partly to blame? There are lots of crosswalks to use.	10/15/2019 6:43 PM
19	Wood Street is busy in the AM with young children walking to Trailview. The road needs a designated walking area from 3rd Street to 7th Street where they can get on the larger sidewalk. The traffic is hectic and dangerous to small children.	10/11/2019 7:31 PM
20	Being that Mora is the last sizable town before going farther north, one would expect a greater selection of businesses. Mora needs to actively attract businesses in order to remain viable.	10/11/2019 7:26 PM
21	Need a clothing / food discount business (ie. Walmart) to keep people buying in the community. There is no competition or selection for goods and services at this time in Mora. Too many people shopping elsewhere.	10/11/2019 6:19 PM
22	City of Mora is a good place to live, so many positives. As an outsider I see so many things - nice people, so many people stepping up to volunteering, good church activity, good city care, clean streets, excellent snow removal. Seems to me that as your people leave so many return to their roots eventually.	10/11/2019 4:47 PM

30	FYI the school could save some money by only sending the big color Mustang Express books to the student's family. The rest of us just throw them away.	10/9/2019 4:57 PM
31	Fix the streets - manholes should not be 2" (or more) lower than street.	10/9/2019 4:24 PM
32	Mora is not a bad town and I love our neighborhood. We don't have kids in school, so I have no comment on schools here. I'm from Wyoming and we can ride or go anywhere there and the trails here are ok, but we are limited.	10/8/2019 2:34 PM
33	need more apartment rentals for limited income seniors and families	10/8/2019 2:27 PM
34	I cannot stress enough that I hope for the city council and commission boards to reflect the community in years to come. There are some "old time" opinions that hindering our community from growing. With respect to traditions, its does not always mean that the old way of thinking and doing is how we are moving. Growing communities mean growing tax base mean growing opportunities. We can not get there if our initial decision makers and policy organizers are biased and reluctant to any time of change.	10/7/2019 11:45 PM
35	For our community to survive, must cut spending / taxes, bring in good paying desirable jobs.	10/4/2019 8:54 PM
36	An arborist or tree trimmer must go into the cemetery and clear out all of the dead branches hanging from trees.	10/4/2019 8:26 PM
37	I feel that our shopping area needs a lot of improvement. People do not like to navigate Hwy 65 in order to shop each store or business. Even Coborn's is cumbersome to get to their parking lot. We need a full length service road and organized shopping.	10/4/2019 6:59 PM
38	Too much garbage home sites have been allowed for years, no one wants to build a nice house next to trash ones.	10/4/2019 6:32 PM
39	The trailer court is looking MUCH better! Please continue cleaning out those junky trailers. I would like to see some of the cut-throughs across Hwy 65 shut off and one more stop light added (south of Forest light). Too dangerous on weekend with all the traffic on 65. Thank you!	10/4/2019 6:20 PM

42	1. Plowing is pathetic - Last year missed 2 days of work because they didn't plow the road for 2 days. 2. Fireworks went off all summer long sometimes until after midnight. 45	We have become a haven for the elderly but we are scaring away the 22-45 age ranges. We don't have a bustling night life and if we want that, we have to drive 1 hour away for that. We don't have a decently priced convenience store and if we want that, we have to drive 30 minutes away. We are in prime location to be the new hotspot of music/entertainment located conveniently at the midway point between the cities and Duluth and the range cities. If we don't do something now, they will end up putting up a bypass and the town will die.	10/3/2019 1:53 PM
